The Three Guardsmen

The Gurney-Oxford Range is fitted with three devices which constantly and uncompromisingly stand guard to see that the fire is always under perfect control—that the coal bills are sheared down to the lowest figure—that the oven is always evenly and properly heated—that no clinkers obstruct the free burning and proper ventilation of the fire.

The Gurney-Oxford oven is surrounded by flues that carry an equal amount of heat to all sides. This almost guarantees results in cooking by providing an oven evenly heated, without cold corners or variation.

The Gurney-Oxford Grate is the result of exhaustive tests to find the proper carrying surface for the fire. The fire has abundant air to breathe, and the less amount of coal burned is all consumed. So then, the housewife who has the "Three Guardsmen," watching over her range will experience security and satisfaction in cooking that is not provided by any other range.

AROUND TOWN

Erie C. Small was in town from it's ranch on the Bow river this week.

J. H. Hanna of Hanna and Hunt, Chisholm & Hanna, have sold their home. Floyd McConachie has left Bassano to spend the winter at Dayton, Ohio and Tampa, Florida.

The sidewalk to the English Church for the new organ was consecrated by Rev. S. Stanley this week.

Appy at the Bassano Trading Company or Bassano News for subscription receipts for the piano contest.

Present at the Council meeting Monday night were Mayor Whiting, in the chair, Com. Flanagan, Shoop, Hanna and Purcell.

Mrs. S. A. Watson, wife of Mr. Watson who was Mayor of Bassano last year, and Medicis Hat with typewriter, visited her son, G. F. Watson, teacher at Bassano this week.

You know that pianos are being given away free just now. Buy a sales slip to the Bassano News, and with it receive a piano worth giving absolutely free a Steinway or Kawai.

The store is in commencement in Bassano these days. Congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boyd, who were married Saturday afternoon. They are the parents of Mr. and Mrs. Walker to whom was born, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Emil and family have moved to a new home at 1004 1/2 North Dakota. Mrs. Emil being called to the death bed of her brother, Mr. Clark H. Emil, at his home in Lethbridge. Mr. Emil is well known in the Bassano district, having lived here off and on, for the past ten years.

Do you know why the Bassano Trading Company give you a coupon every time you make a purchase there? It's because they want you to come back again. They are in presenting that magnificent piano they have in the store. Learn all about the competition in the news.

With a whole handful of turkeys secured, the fowl supplier to the Presbyterian Church Monday evening promises to be a huge Thanksgiving success. Mrs. Cooper, graduate of the University of Illinois, Chicago, has kindly consented to sing at the entertainment following.

To piano contestants—The News has a large number of piano tuners in the city and districts. These receipts are necessary when cautions for the subscription that you must bring the serial number of the piano, and the cost nothing. Make application now and to the race.

To W. A. W. Hanes has fallen the task of writing the obituary and auto record. With an investing party to Calgary under the escort of S. E. Wilson, he left Bassano Saturday morning. Friday, covering 175 miles in the broken trail between 175 o'clock on Tuesday and 11 a.m. on Wednesday.

J. S. Major, barrister, has passed away. It is rumoured that he had a bullet in his tachelehorn behind him, and that he is suffering from a bullet wound in his head. Anyways no one can imagine that it will be any less attraction that drew him down to Fredericton. His son, Frank, is a student at a law school in his absence.

Frank Reid, barrister, is absent at a law school in his absence.

Was Here When Bassano

(Continued from page 1) James Chief Crowfoot were hostile, and for several days the Indians were unable to stay at the Crossing they were in fear of their lives. Looked made them a friend of the Chief, and when the Indians were told they were permitted to continue their journey. They then struck off by trail at the south end of the lake, and came into the mountains. About the only settlement between them and Brandon were the Mounties.

Mr. Miles was old friend of J. H. West of Bassano, who was a conductor in the New Brunswick and railroad road, and when Mr. Miles unexpectedly came to Bassano, he was invited to dinner. Mr. Weaver gave six o'clock dinner in his honour. Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, Dr. Shaw and J. L. Major.

Psoriasis is another name for chronic eczema. It is the worst form of this dreadful itching skin disease.

But here is a case which proves that even the most incurable cases can be cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

After five years of suffering and failing to respond to the advice of three doctors, the patient

replied that he would go to Dr.

Chase's Ointment.

He had been finding winters, at which he shrank his body, and any leather shifter (pick-had to wear was terrible.

It is true, any way, I have been suffering for a long time now,

but I still believed there was a lot more to be done, so I went to Dr.

BOWSER'S Mutt.

A Tale of Steadfast Devotion to Art.

HE STANDS BY HIS STONE DOG

Though Popular Criticism Calls It a Monstrosity, and Mockers Attack It in the Dark—End of an Italian Masterpiece.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1912, by the Associated Press.)

FOR the last three months Mr. Bowser has had a sunless day for an ornament in his front yard. He was bought at auction for $2, and he stands there as an Elizabetian peasant man with a long, gaunt face, his bare hands clasped behind his back, his feet firmly planted on the ground. He has worked on that dog for twelve years, and then gone into bankruptcy and left him to stand by the door for the benefit of his creditors.

The auctioneer had warranted the stone dog to be a full-blooded wolf-dog, and Mr. Bowser believed him as such. Upon getting the animal home, however, and giving him a place to live, he found there was a great difference of opinion among the neighbors as to breed. He was set aside as a bulldog, then a mastiff, a spaniel, a collie, a dachshund, a terrier, a fox terrier, etc.

Mr. Bowser was sent forth and addressed the crowd. His language was fervent, but it failed to move them. He then jumped over fence and ran across three boys and licked five men and had to pay about $50 fine in court. The judge said he had no sympathy with the dog, and that it was a water spaniel and was not even a dog.

At least one month ago three men had rung the doorbell at midnight, and roused Mr. Bowser out to see him.

"It is to go to last," said Mr. Bowser with a sigh of relief.

"God! God! What said it was to go?" was asked.

"You said the judge—"

"The dog must hang!" It can't be hung, he'll be hanged, he'll be hung or my front yard! That stone dog stays!"

"On one?"

"On none at all. He is to be dug up at Pidgeon just as he is every morning in the country would be after him. I'll keep him for my own pleasure."

And he did. No one knew the Bowser dog was for sale, and there was always loud talk and sometimes fight. Inside of a month from the time of the dog Mrs. Bowser advised his relatives that he had to go, but Mr. Bowser stood up to reply:

"I'd like to see any one try to remove him!"

"He's making trouble."

"Let him make. If the people don't know a work of art when they see one I'm not to blame."

An Art Discussion.

"Is he a work of art?"

"Is he? Is he? Mrs. Bowser, have you seen or heard anything to lead you to suspect that I am fond enough to buy a dog that isn't a work of art?"

"Why—why?"

"What? What? I didn't say a word."

The old woman bailed out the gate to look at the dog the other day, and the missing dog told their tale. Mrs. Bowser heard the whoop she was waiting for, and then leaped over the steps—the dog's exclamation:

"They have done it at last!"

"They have ingred of the dog?"

"You can't mean it!"

And then Mr. Bowser backed up and went up and looked back straight in the eye and pointed his finger and howled whisper:

"You old hound, here! We're telling the law and here the dog is set by the time I get back! I go to put a thousand detectors on your trail and you to earth!"

"They have done it at last!"

PLAY SPACES FOR THE YOUNG

Fair and convincing argument is contained in the accompanying letter received by the News from the City Planning Commission, that Bassano as a growing city should do something in its infancy towards furnishing play-spaces for the children of the town for years.

We know that in the time to come we shall have all the privileges as a play ground, and provision should be made for breathing places for the young who will be brought up in the crowded parts of this Bassano.

It cannot be too early to make a start. Right now is the ripe time.

How to do it? The suggestion contained in the letter below to refuse approval of subdivisions until recreation areas are reserved sounds the most sensible. How it will apply to Bassano we will endeavor to state in a later issue.

Mr. J. R. Sharp,
Editor, The News,
Bassano, Alta.

I am in touch with a few days ago with Mr. Pegler of your city in which town planning was discussed. During our talk Mr. Pegler informed me that, up to the present Bassano had not gone "soft-division crazy" but from indications it is apparent that subdivision and building subdivisions were to be placed on the market before long. Before these plans are approved and registered it would be very desirable I think, to have a plan showing the location of traffic, the location of buildings, etc., etc. In other words, the city of Bassano, as it stands to be, is about five or six years hence.

From what I know of Bassano it is future is longer in doubt. It is bound to be one of the best cities in Alberta owing to the fact that it is the home of a great enterprise of your citizens. It would be a pity for this new city to grow up without proper foresight on the part of the Western people. As you doubtless know, the towns of Calgary and Winnipeg are today grappling with the question of town planning. This is no question but that these cities will be greatly improved, far more would have been done if the cost of the plan had not been so high. It has been calculated that the money been taken for town planning ten years ago, when these cities were in the same stage as Bassano is now. Undoubtedly, besides being costly is most important that the plan be not made by the mistakes Calgary and other cities have made if not yet. Town planning will make Bassano a better city to live in, to come to and to move about in. If this is true, then you and I and those who it advocates, I will be happy to follow this up with further information and particulars regarding the method of forming city planning commissions and the working of the town upon at the start. Perhaps later on I will be able to get you to talk this matter over with some of your friends. Will you kindly let me know your views on this subject. Trusting that you will give this matter your careful attention.

I am
Yours sincerely,
John H. Gadsen,
Vice President, Calgary Commissioner.

Comment.

Is it going to be a peculiar coincidence that "Turkey" is to be carved to make a Thanksgiving meal for Greece?何時 a re-venge my countrymen!

Tremble, Ye Canadian Turkey! This is Thanksgiving week.

Apparently more light is needed on the power question.

Attention is directed to the fact that the "Mixed Farming Special Train" an interesting exhibit put out by the Department of Agriculture, will be in Bassano on Friday next. It will be worth over everybody's while to visit it.
